ABOUT OUR PRODUCTS

TURMERIC (Whole & Powder)

Turmeric plays big role as it is a key ingredient in curries and many other cuisine across Southeast Asia. It is also often used as natural food coloring. In Indonesia, turmeric is also commonly used as a traditional herbal medicine called Jamu. Curcumin, the active ingredient in turmeric, has effective biological properties. Besides being a powerful immune booster, it has many health benefits including antioxidant, natural detox for liver and kidneys, to prevent heart disease, anti-carcinogenic properties and many more.

GINGER (Whole & Powder)

Ginger is loaded with antioxidants. Indonesia has three types of ginger: elephant ginger, red ginger, and white ginger. Elephant ginger is the most popular in the international market, it has less aroma and flavor compared to other types. Elephant ginger has an essential oil content between 0,82% & 2,8%. Red ginger tastes hotter with strong aroma, and has a high content of essential oil between 2,58% & 3,90%, meanwhile white ginger has an essential oil content between 1,50% & 3,50%.

CORIANDER SEEDS

Coriander seeds are often described as tasting earthy, nutty and peppery and slightly lemony that combines especially well with ginger. Coriander seeds are plump and brown, have a hollow cavity which bears essential oils that lend to the flavor of the dishes when used in cooking. In foods, coriander is often used as a culinary spice and to prevent food poisoning. In manufacturing, coriander is used as a flavoring agent in medicines and as a fragrance in cosmetics and soaps.

CANDLENUT

Candlenut, also known as Aleurites Moluccanus is a flowering tree in the spurge family that produces hard seeds containing fatty acids that generate 15–20 percent of their weight in oil, it is usually used as a flavor enhancer, thickener and condiment. Candlenut can survive in extreme dry seasons, making it the primary provider of non-timber forest products, it grows to a height of 15–25m. If you visit Nusa Tenggara, you can easily find rich groves of candlenut trees.

BLACK PEPPER & WHITE PEPPER

Black pepper known as Lampung pepper (named after the area in which it grows) is popular for its sharp, burning pungency taste and aroma which usually available at density 470 – 570 G/L with moisture 14% max. White pepper or known as Muntok white pepper is originally produced in Bangka Belitung Island, these white peppercorns tend to have a strong distinctive smell with spicy and creamy flavor, it is commonly available at density 600 – 630 G/L with moisture also 14% max.

ABOUT OUR PRODUCTS

Coconut, which is known as “the tree of life” has so many use. Almost every part of it, from its fruits, leaves, water, shells, roots, woods, sticks can be made into something useful.

Indonesia has the largest area of coconut plantation in the world. It's not a surprise because the soil, climate, height and other necessity to grow the plant are just suitable. This is placed Indonesia as the top coconut producer in the world.

This world's archipelagic country has costal along it's islands, argillaceous soil and soil rich with organic matter such as mountain ash, which are best for coconut growth and higher yield. And so, all over the country produce coconut. According to Statistics of Indonesia (BPS), national plantation for coconut in Indonesia reached almost 3,7 million hectares.

ABOUT OUR PRODUCTS

Matured coconut, and the husk that left intact over the "eyes" of the coconut which is a sensitive area, is kind of a protecting way because we can increase the shelf life of the coconut as the area susceptible to decay is still protected well.

Semi Husked Coconut

Coconut Fiber

Coconut fiber is a natural fiber extracted from the outer husk of coconut and useful for making products such as mattresses, brushes, doormats and floor mats. Coconut fiber is the fibrous material found between the hard, internal shell and the outer coat of a coconut.

Cocopeat is very useful for plants! Hydroponic plants grown in cocopeat grow fifty per cent faster than they would in soil. It also eliminates the need for fertilizers, herbicides and pesticides as peat itself carries ample nutrients. This is 100% Organic and a renewable resource.

Cocopeat Block

Coconut Sugar

Coconut sugar is natural and organic sugar which is produced from 100% coconut sap. Coconut sugar has the main advantage of lower fructose compared to cane sugar. It substitutes cane sugar for diabetic patients, and also has a unique flavor and aroma, like more-rounded and pure sweetness than regular sugar.

Coconut chip is a rich source of dietary fiber, which keeps you fuller for longer and helps stabilize your blood sugar. It is pure organic dried/roasted coconut flakes/chips. It is 100% natural, good source of fiber, gluten free, no preservatives, and also free from allergens.

Coconut Chips

Desiccated Coconut

Desiccated coconut is pure coconut meat which has been shredded, flaked and dehydrated or dried. Desiccated coconut can be used as an ingredient in savory and sweet recipes both to give a coconut taste and texture and as a topping or coating. Available in low fat and high fat type.
